-California is becoming a favorite resort of the traveller for pleasure. The wild and rugged scenery of the Rocky Mountains, through which the route lies; the wonderful geysers; the mammoth trees of Calaveras County, and the grandeur of the Yosemite Valley, will soon be nearly as familiar to the general public, either by description or personal inspection, as Niagara or the St. Lawrence.

A Washington telegram to the Baltimore Sun says that the Granville note on the indirect damage claim of this government was the subject of another discussion at the regular Cabinet meeting on Friday, though it is touched on revisiting his native country. To stated that no conclusion was reached. The proposition made in the House to wholly abandon the claim, does not meet with much favor by the administration, as there is still hope that there will be some plan devised (indeed one is now the subject of debate) by which leave of absence, or while in the militia or the treaty can be saved without wholly walv- the reserve after summor ed for duty or after ing the consequential claim. A man employed as a fencer at Sherborne Castle was found by a woman in her kitchen sitting by the fire, with blood issuing from his mouth, blood being upon the floor and his handkerchief on fire. She asked him whathe had done, and he replied that he had tried to blow his brains out. Assistance was immediately obtained, when the nozzle of a prir of bellows was found lying by his side. The old man said he had only half done it; his old head was too thick to blow off. It seemed the would-be suicide had been carrying fuses and rock powder about him, and had drilled a hole in the nozzle of a bellows, converting it into a kind . small cannon, and inserting the end of it into his mouth. He had been addicted to drink, and had before threatened "to make a hole in the water."

-An interesting example of the way in which the liberal divorce laws of Indiana some: met operate is given in a Louisville paper. . A woman in Indianapolis was in poor health, and fearing that in case she should die her husband would obtain the control of certain property that she possessed, she visited her sister in Louisville, Kentucky, in order to carry out a scheme which she had projected to prevent it. While staying with her sister she crossed the river to New Albany, where she rented a house for three months, and on this transaction based a residence there. She then instituted a sult for divorce, after which she returned to her husband in Indianapolis. About a year ago she received a telegraph dispatch requesting her immediate presence in Louisville in consequence of illness in her sister's family, and showing this to her husband, readily consented to a second visit to that city. At this time she again went over to New Albany, where she received her decree of divorce, which she quietly put in her the husband would have never known what had taken place, at least during her life time, had he not excited her ire by insisting one day too much on his own way as the head of the family; upon which she very curtly informed him that he need not try to tyrannize over her, as she was not his wife, at the same time producing the documents to prove her assertion. The husband was more than astonished; but he insists upon it that such a divorce as that will never stand, in which opinion he

-The New York Tribune, of Thursday, gives the following particulars of the arrest, in that city, of the person claiming to be the Earl of Aberdeen. an order of arrest granted by Judge Brady. Gould swears that on the first of last March he delivered to Gordon six hundred shares of Erie Railway stock, of the market value of $36,000; that he instructed Gordon to sell the stock, and with the proceeds to purchase eighty acres of land in Westchester County, and that Gordon did not observe his instructions, but refused to return the stock, and converted it to his own use. Ball in $37,000 was furnished by Gordon, who was then released from custody. Gordon is an Englishman, who came to this city some time since, representing bimself as a large Erie stockholder, and claiming that he owned half of all the Erie stock held in England. He appeared at the Eric offices at the time of Gould's overthrow, and loudly demanded admission, which was refused. It is said that he claims to be the Earl of Aberdeen, whose fate was long in doubt, but whose loss at sea appears now to be settled beyond question. Notwithstanding this, Gordon is said positively to assert his identity with the lost Earl, and to declare his intention of claiming the Aberdeen

The Meeting at the Cooper Institute.

The Liberal Republican meeting held at the Cooper Institute in New York, on Friday evening, was imposing in character and in numbers; and the speeches of Senators Trumbull and Schurz, who then gave in their formal adhesion to the Cincinnati movement, are already giving the Anti-Grant party an ominous strength and consistency. The declaration of principles adopted by the meeting is strong and to the point. If the Cincinnati movement is dead, as the Breadand-Butter papers insist, it is a very lively corpse.

Captured and Abandoned Property.

Chief Justice Chase has delivered an opin ion in the Supreme Court of the United States, in the case of Parquod against the United States, which opens the way to numerous actions growing out of the late war. The case in point was a proceeding to recover the proceeds of a lot of cotton, seized under the Captured and Abandoned Property Act of 1863, an appeal from the Court of Claims, and was argued at the last term of the court. The Court of Claims dismissed the petition on the ground that it did not aver that the claiment had not given aid or comfort to the rebellion, and that it did not sufficiently aver executive pardon. The Chief Justice held (the same as in the case of Armstrong vs. United States, recently decided,) that the President's proclamation of December 25, 1868, granting pardon and amnesty unconditionally and without reservation, relieves the claimants, in all cases under the Captured and Abandoned Property Act, from proof of adhesion to the United States during the late war, and the judgment dismissing the petition was reversed.

It will be seen that this is the second decision of the kind that has been rendered, and already many persons in the South have taken advantage of it. Under these decisions most of the property taken at the South during the war can be reclaimed.

The Liabilty of Naturalized Citizens to do Military Duty.

Some anxiety having been manifested among our naturalized citizens, especially those from continental Europe, in regard to their liability to do military duty in case of a return to their native country, it is stated by the New York World that under the terms of the treaties between the United States and the Germanic and other powers, there is no liability to military duty unless the naturalized citizen was really in the army or was drawn for service and then emigrated. . If merely in a class liable to military duty he is protected by the treaties, and will not take, for instance, the case of a Badener, under the treaty of July 19, 1868, if he has emigrated after being enrolled for service, or while in service under the flag, or while upon general rules apply under the treaties with Baveria of May 26, 4868; with Wartemburg of July 27, 1868; with Belgium of November 16, 1868; with Hesse of July 23, 1869, and with Austria of September 20, 1870. Under the treaty of February 22, 1868, with the North German Confederation, naturalization, provided the naturalized person does not return within five years from his departure, wipes out all liabilty for military service, and remits any punishment, fine or cost which may have been declared on that account. By bearing these facts in mind our naturalized citizens may ascertain for themselves how far they may venture upon fo:eign travel. The North German, as the Confederation was in 1868, may have no fear of being harassed if he has resided five years uninterruptedly in the United States. The Bavarian, Badener, Austrian, and 60 on, will find naturalization no protection against suit for violation of military obligation, provided he was at the time of his emigration in service or summoned by name for service. In no case, however, we believe, can actual military service be demanded.

Wealth and Taxation in the United States.

The census figures just published show that the valuation of property in the United States increased from sixteen thousand millions of dollars (bard money figures) in 1860, to thirty thousand millions (paper money) in 1870, equal to a nominal advance of 90 per cent.; also show that the total taxation for State, county, city and town purposes has increased from ninety-four million dollars in 1860, to two hundred and eighty-one millions in 1870, an actual advance of 300 pocket and carried home. It is possible that per cent. The federal taxation for 1871 yielded into the treasury three hundred and eighty-three millions. This added to the local taxation gives six hundred and sixtyfour millions as the amount of taxes collected directly from forty millions of population, for one year, for the support of the general and local governments. This is at the rate of $16.50 per capita for every member of the population, or, estimating five persons to the family, $82.50 per family. But in order to ascertain the total burden actually imposed upon the people by the machinery of government, we must add to the direct taxation the further amount which is collected through the tariff as a bonus to "protected"

Gordon Gordon, at the suit of Jay Gould, on three hundred millions per annum, which raises the grand total of taxes annually paid by the people of the United States to hine hundred and sixty-four million dollars.

The total indebtedness of the States, counties and cities in 1870 was eight hundred and sixty-nine millions. The federal debt was given on the first of the present month at two thousand two hundred and ten millions. This gives a total indebtedness of three thousand and seventy-nine millions, equal to ten per cent. of the total nominal valuation of the property of the country. The annual interest upon this indebtedness is less than one-third of the taxes directly collected. Summed up, the total annual burden imposed by government machinery, federal and local, upon the people of the United States, may be stated as follows: For interest upon indebtedness, two hundred and twenty million dollars; as a bonus to protected industries, three hundred millions; for the direct maintenance of the government, four hundred and forty-four millions.

hostetter's Bitters.

DISEASED INDIGESTION.—IF chronic indigestion affected the stomach only, it might be more easily borne; but it gives rise in evitably to many other diseases, affecting the liver, the nerves, the bowels and the brain. Biliousness, nervous tremore, constipation, headache and terrible mental disturbances are among its usual accompaniments. In fact every organ, every fibre of the frame sympathizes with the de bilitated and diseased stomach. What is needed in such a case? Clearly an alterative and invigorant; and among Medicines of that class HOS-TETTER'S STOMACH BIFTERS 'is, beyond all comparison or estimate, the best. Mere purgatives only deprive the system of the little strength that disease has left it. Salivants have the same effect. The whole internal organism has gone wrong, and can only be put right and kept right a medicine in which the tonic and stimulating elements predominate, but are qualified and modified by anti-bilious aperients and bloodpurifying components. Now, the truth is, (and the medical faculty as well as the public know the fact) that Hostetter's Bitters contain every ingredient requisite for the cure of dyspepsia and all the allments of body and mind which it involves. This has been proved in so many thousands of instances that it seems almost idle to repeat the statement. The great tonic rallies exhausted nature, from whatever cause enfeebled, and permanently recraits the vigor of the nerves, the muscles and the brain. Its effect upon the brain is to give strength to the will and precision to the judgment, and to banish despondency and that infirmity of purpose which generally accompanies apris-mwfapac bodily weakness.
